

Capercaillie & Black grouse hunt in Norway

Join us for a thrilling hunt for capercaillie and black grouse in Norway. This unique hunt takes place in the Østerdalen en Rendalen region, only 2-3 hours from Oslo Gardermoen international Airport.
If it comes to price and quality - this is the best offer out on the market today!

Our experienced, local guide will take you along with the German Pointing dog, on a once in a life time hunt. Both our guide and the dog know the terrain like the palm of their hand and many capercaillies have fallen in front of this lethal combination.

The terrain we dispose is about 10.000 Ha and lies in the heart of the top region of Norway for capercaillie hunting. Dominated by old temperate coniferous forests, mixed with broad leaf forests and lots of blueberries in the bottom vegetation, an ideal biotope for capercaillie is created.

Our terrain has been used for hare hunting exclusively during the last 3 years and counts have shown a strong population of capercaillie and black grouse. Add to that that this year it is a "lemmen" (mouse) year in Norway, meaning the predation on capercaillie will be low; all the conditions for a great hunt are in place! You will be allowed to shoot any other small game during the hunt

For this hunt we have 2 cozy cabins at your disposal:

Buloftet - 25 m2
1 bedroom, 2 beds
